

For iPatts, the tertiary Stakeholders are the app designers, programmers, and app evaluators. These have direct influence over the application

The secondary stakeholder of this app is Kuilin Zhang. He both provides input on the whole system, and uses the results of the product.

Users: The users of this application are the class taught by Dr. Zhang. These are the primary users of the app, and for the time being, the only ones to use it. However, in the future, there may be secondary users of this application who would instead of using application for a grade, would be compensated for participating in the application.
