

Nominal Use 1

Athlete

Mary Johnson is a college basketball player worried about injury. In track in high school she suffered a bad knee hit during a pole vault event. Johnson does strength training to prevent injury, but is always looking for more resources.

Her basketball coach requires her to use various tools in order to practice safely off campus. She wants to push herself without pushing her luck.

Nominal Use 2

Trainer

Dr. Sanjay Hibonjison is a physical therapist that works with college athletes for strength training and injury prevention. Sanjay wants his clients to have a tool to find resources to avoid injury out of his office. He wants people from different backgrounds to be knowledgeable.

He provides the website as a tool that is easy to use. The site also allows his clients to save the information and resources they find for future use.