

User Environment

Our plan for the app is to make it easily usable on both mobile and desktop devices. Our users will be using the app to enter data in a potentially wide range of environments, from a computer in an office, or even from their phone on a diving boat. Making sure that our app is friendly on both mobile and desktop will help ensure that our users have an easy time entering coral bloom data no matter their situation or level of experience.