

System Overview

The system is a web application designed for use on desktops and mobile devices. It will be navigable by touch on mobile devices (e.g. smartphones, tablets, touch-enabled laptops) and by mouse on desktops. The system will use GIS to display and populate a map of berry harvests. The system will use GPS data from the device for map interactions, such as viewing your location or submitting a harvest record.