

1. Student 1:
Jake Sullivan

Age: 12
Education: 5th Grade

Jake is an attentive student that pays attention to class and earns good grades within class. He often answers questions from other students and is very independent. Because of this he generally doesn't ask questions unless he absolutely needs to.

2. Student 2:
Mary Reed

Age 13
Education: 6th Grade

Mary is not attentive in class and generally ignores the teacher while class is going on. She often goofs off when there is something to distract herself with. On the other hand she can be involved in class activities if she deems them interesting and fun.

3. Teacher 1:
Mark Strong

Age: 34
Education: Bachelors Degree

Mark enjoys teaching his class in new and exciting ways since he likes to captivate the attention of all his students. He is generally tech savvy and has no problems adapting to new technology that is being used and introduced as well as using new tools of learning.

4. Teacher 2:
Elizabeth Jacobs

Age: 58
Education: Masters Degree

Elizabeth has fun teaching her classes, but sometimes struggles to relate to her students and keep their attention all the time. She has used computers before and knows how to navigate and use websites as learning tools, but struggles with incorporating new technology into her lessons.
